Nixon, Kefauver
Enter Miami TV
Channel Probe

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators today recalled A. Frank Katzentine, whose testimony has brought the names of Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) into hearings on alleged pressures in a Miami TV channel contest.

Katzentine, a stocky Miami Beach radio station owner, was a loser in the four-way contest for the Channel 10 license.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark.) told newsmen his subcommittee hoped to finish with the TV contest before calling Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

Mack is a Miami Democrat appointed by President Eisenhower to the commission in July 1955. Mack voted with the majority when the FCC decided 4-2 last year to give Channel 10 to Public Service Television, Inc., a subsidiary of National Airlines. An FCC examiner had recommended that Katzentine get it.

"Distortions" Mack has termed "distortions" charges that he accepted money in the case and that he was pledged in advance to vote for Public Service.

Katzentine told of two visits to Mack in Washington before the final FCC decision. But he said he never asked Mack to vote for him.

All he wanted, he said, was a vote on the merits of the application. He said he never tried to influence anybody to vote for him.

The names of Kefauver and Nixon were brought into the hearing through letters referred to in the testimony.

In one letter, Nixon was described as the "right man" to approach on behalf of Katzentine. The letter, dated Oct. 13, 1955, was written by Downey Rice, a Washington attorney and friend of Katzentine, to Daniel P. Sullivan, another Katzentine friend in Miami.

Letters Released In the letter, Rice said he had talked with Bob King, identified as a former aide, about the TV problems. Rice quoted King as saying he would "present it" to Nixon.

There was no testimony as to whether the matter ever reached Nixon.

In another letter introduced, Katzentine wrote Kefauver on June 6, 1955, saying "I am now then I am prepared to accept" between the examiner's recommendation of March 30, 1955, and the final FCC decision.

Katzentine told Kefauver "your offer to help could be useful now" and asked if Kefauver would let Chiang Kai-shek and Marshall be known "that you are my friend Stalin."

In a reply dated June 13, 1955, Kefauver said he had been waiting for Katzentine's "go-ahead" and said he had talked with three commissioners "by letting them bring up the subject in some way and I think this is the best way to be helpful."

Churchill Has

Physicians Say
Former Leader Is In 'Good Spirits'

By HARVEY HUDSON

ROQUEBRUNE-CAP-MARTIN, France (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, battling pneumonia and pleurisy, spent a "fairly comfortable night," his secretary said today. The 83-year-old former British Prime Minister, a warrior in military and political campaigns since the turn of the century, seemed to have the upper hand in his new bout with illness.

"Sir Winston is in good spirits," his private secretary Montague Browne said. "He passed the day reading papers, talking to his family and dealing with correspondence." He smoked two cigars, Browne noted.

On Vacation The diagnosis of pneumonia at the base of the lung and pleurisy was given by Lord Moran, Churchill's personal physician who flew down from London, and Dr. David M. Roberts, his doctor on the Riviera.

Churchill came to the Riviera Jan. 15 for his annual winter visit. Monday he visited the yacht of Greek millionaire Aristotle Onassis. Browne said Sir Winston apparently suffered a chill during the visit. He was put to bed Tuesday and Moran was summoned.

Dr. Roberts said before Lord Moran arrived that Churchill was suffering from a chronic bronchial condition, "but there is no question of his dying."

Third Attack After the first medical bulletin, newsmen asked Browne about Roberts' earlier statement.

Browne replied, "If Dr. Roberts said his condition is not dangerous, I am sure then I am prepared to accept that this is true."

Churchill had pneumonia in February 1943 in London and again in December of that year. He died in 1953.

He has suffered two strokes in 1951 and 1953.

53 Persons Die
As British Ship
Explodes In Port

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—A British freighter that put into this Persian Gulf oil port on fire and with 150 tons of explosives aboard exploded at her anchorage last night.

The ship's agent said 53 persons were killed and 19 were injured. The fire and explosion caused no damage to oil tankers nearby. City and did not endanger harbor installations.

The 7,440-ton Seistan, one of the most modern ships in the British merchant fleet, was burning when she entered the Persian Gulf three days ago, en route from Liverpool with the explosives and other supplies for the Iraqi oil party for about 40 members of the Webster Literary Society.

The Seistan sank by the stern, but parts of her superstructure still smoldered above water.

Buses Remain

U. S. Appeals Court
Outlaws Practice;
Further Steps Set

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Segregated seating continued on New Orleans' streetcars and buses today in the face of a court ruling outlawing the practice.

The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday declared unconstitutional the state law requiring separate seating for whites and Negroes on city transportation devices.

Officials of Public Service, Inc., the utility firm which runs the streetcars and buses, said legal steps could be taken against the decision.

The ruling, which upheld an injunction issued by Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright, was the fourth in seven days by the appeal court against state segregation laws.

The court Thursday acted in cases involving city public schools, city park facilities and state colleges.

Wright's injunction several months ago stopped city and Public Service officials from enforcing transit segregation laws.

The court yesterday referred to the Montgomery, Ala., transportation case and ruled the New Orleans situation was covered by the Montgomery proceedings.

Public Service President George S. Dinwiddie said the firm's attorneys had advised that further legal steps can be taken "and that the judgment and injunction of the District Court are not yet effective."

Little Rock Heads Ask
Stay In Court Order

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A group of business and civic leaders yesterday asked the Little Rock school board to seek a stay in a federal court order for integration of Central High School.

If such a stay is granted, it apparently would mean withdrawal of eight Negro pupils now attending the big school which has been the center of an integration dispute since last September.

The 24-man committee of citizens did not indicate whether it wanted the stay to be temporary or permanent.

Specifically, the group asked the school board to petition U.S. District Court "for a stay of compliance with the adopted schedule of integration."

In a letter to the board, the committee said that "in the light of our experiences of the past several months," the school board's plan of gradual integration at Little Rock should have further court review.

This obviously referred to a series of clashes between white and Negro students at Central High. Several white students have been suspended. Minnie Mae Brown, one of the nine Negroes who started attending Central High Sept. 25 under federal troop protection, has been expelled for the rest of this semester.

Gov. Orval Faubus, informed of the group's letter, said its contents sounded "pretty much in conformity with what I have urged in the past. I think it is a very good statement."

School Supt. Virgil Blossom said he saw nothing wrong with the group's suggestion for going back into federal court. Wayne Upton, president of the school board, declined comment.

Soviet Action
Can Be Taken
At Little Cost

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union and Red China apparently are working on a concerted plan to put maximum pressure on the Western powers to hold a summit conference on Communist terms.

U.S. officials found evidence of this today in the timing of two widely separated but remarkably similar actions within the past two days:

1. Communist China's announced decision to withdraw troops from North Korea this year.

2. An announcement by the Soviet commander in East Germany of plans to reduce the Soviet forces there by 41,000 men.

Happened Before In the United States view the Soviets and Red Chinese can take these actions at little cost to themselves—indeed they may be necessary for reasons unrelated to a summit conference—yet make a show of relaxing tensions.

Much the same thing happened before the 1955 summit conference, when the Soviet Union suddenly agreed to unification of Austria after years of stalling.

By such means, as well as by the letters which Soviet Premier Bulganin has been writing to President Eisenhower, the Reds can hope to build up worldwide pressure for summit talks.

They apparently hope that once the talks are started the demands for East-West agreement will be so great that the Western powers will be forced to make concessions to Soviet interests.

Want Trade Among other things, Bulganin has indicated the Soviet Union would like to neutralize Germany. The Soviets have also made clear they want to break down Western restraints on trade which would benefit their own industrial build-up, and to get some kind of non-aggression pact which might have the long-range effect of weakening the Western resolve to maintain costly defense systems.

U.S. officials are extremely skeptical about the chances of getting any real changes in Soviet or Red Chinese policy on issues proposed by President Eisenhower. These include initial steps to limit armaments, control outer space for peaceful purposes and build Club, a Masonic-affiliated group, up the authority of the United Nations.

Truman, in Washington for a week end Democratic meeting, said only that he will take a non-partisan, religious approach.

"I'll have a statement when the time comes," he said.

He first announced the speaking tour in a brief speech in Philadelphia as he received an award from the Golden Slipper Square Club, a Masonic-affiliated group, up the authority of the United Nations.

Truman didn't elaborate then either, merely saying he will make a series of talks on the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God after completing political commitments in Washington.

Asked if the purpose were to promote world peace, Truman said: "That's it exactly. That's the whole purpose."

Fairchild Plant Without Cafeteria HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Thousands of Fairchild Aircraft employees, who went without breakfast and lunch today because of a cafeteria disintegrated.

Churchey was dismissed because of an alleged unfair labor practice violation. Smith said, to snow weary colleagues yesterday. Thirty employees of the cafeteria day.

An emergency meeting to settle the dispute was set for later today.

Thrill-Killer Leopold Gets Consideration On Latest Plea

He pleaded: "Gentlemen, I beg you to show me the mercy I did not show. Give me the chance to try to be useful and to justify my existence."

This is Leopold's fifth attempt to win release from Stateville, Ill., and Richard Loeb entered the prison Sept. 11, 1924, after pleading guilty to the crime. They were sentenced to life for murder and 99 years for kidnapping. Leopold was 19 and Loeb 18 at the time.

Senate Approves Ike's
Boost In Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee approved today the full five billion dollar boost in the debt ceiling asked by President Eisenhower effective until June 30, 1959.

It did so after rejecting by a vote of 10-5 a proposal by Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) to limit the increase to three billion.

The committee acted on a bill passed by the House a month ago, 328-71, to raise the amount of the debt the government can have outstanding.

The increase is from 275 to 280 billion dollars.

Byrd said he would not push on the Senate floor his move to hold the increase to three billion dollars.

"I made my fight in the committee," he said.

The senator said he expected the bill to come up on the floor early next week. The Treasury has been pressing for quick action because the current period is one in which its cash position is tightest.

Byrd said "I am confident the Senate Finance Committee approved the increase in the debt limit only because of its belief that the administration had over-estimated the income for the next year and under-estimated the spending."

Other committee sources had predicted in advance that Byrd's proposal to hold the increase to three billion dollars would be voted down in the committee.

U. S. Newsprint
Mills Can Take Care Of Papers

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. newsprint mills have enough capacity "to meet all publisher requirements for the immediate future," a spokesman for the companies said today.

Arthur G. Wakenin, retiring president of the Newsprint Service Bureau, said the manufacturers are concerned over the development of a profit squeeze, created by increasing costs of production and expensive unused capacity.

Wakenin, president of Coosa River News Print Co., Coosa Pines, Ala., and vice president of Kimberly-Clark Corp., said U. S. Mills have increased newsprint capacity from 529,000 tons a year in 1946 to 2,100,000 tons, a gain of 150 per cent.

David L. Luke, president of the American Paper and Pulp Assn., said the past two years and president of West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co., were scheduled to be sentenced today for grand larceny. Maximum sentences are 15 years, try, despite the current bulge in capacity.

This is true, said Luke, because $1.12 a ton from the sale of an auto "fluctuating raw materials prices owned by the union. Young Beck have become less important, and had been found guilty three weeks sticky or rising manufacturing prices have become more important."

Parties Split On Business Upturn

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats are considerably less than the government's 4 1/2 million figure—per haps less than half that, with the remainder merely changing jobs, or otherwise temporarily out of work. The advice was based on reports from Leon Keyserling, former Truman economic adviser.

An administration spokesman described as a "mistaken impression" the general interpretation that President Eisenhower, in a statement last week, predicted a business upturn in March.

Meanwhile, congressional Democrats got some private estimates offset rather quickly by increased unemployment may government spending.

Dr. Gabriel Hauge, special White House assistant for economic affairs, told a meeting of state broadcasting association president Eisenhower's statement was reported in April that "should constitute a good sign that the downturn was running out of steam."

At that time, Eisenhower said: "Every indication is that March will commence to see the start of likely to 'turn around on a dime.' That Hauge said it was his personal opinion the downturn would 'slow in our to a stop during the second quarter of this calendar year.'"

Federal Reserve Board Acts To Jump Lending Capacity

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In a new antirecession move, the Federal Reserve Board has acted to increase the lending capacity of its 6,400 member banks.

The board did this yesterday in lowering the reserve requirements of the banks by one half of 1 per cent. For some banks, the action is effective a week from today. For others, it takes effect March 1.

The reduction will release about 70 million dollars from reserves which the banks are required to hold against demand deposits. This is expected to broaden their lending capacity by about three billion dollars under a banking theory that each dollar freed from reserve generally yields six dollars in lending capacity. According to the Federal Reserve, the action is a bank usually is required to deposit a certain percentage of its deposits with the Federal Reserve.

The Minnesota statute books are deposited eventually either in that and provide for a refund so that the deposit can be loaned again, meaning which candidate will be given the seat.

Prison Inmates Transferred To County Lockup

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(INS)—Three Tennessee State Prison inmates serving terms for murder were lodged in the county jail today for "protection" in the wake of the discovery of an old prisoner's skeleton under a concrete floor.

The skeleton was identified as Paul Joe Payne, a Chattanooga bank robber believed to have escaped from the prison 18 years ago.

Warden Lynn Bonar ordered the three convicts transferred to the jail yesterday.

Bonar theorized that the transferred prisoners had been witnesses to Payne's murder and said their lives would not have been "worth two cents if we had left them at the prison."

Other officials said they believed Payne was killed in the battle for control of gambling and narcotics traffic in the prison.

Bonar reported that there had been three other prison slayings in the last few months.

U.S. Attorney Investigating Aid Given Owners Of Swaps

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(INS)—Coughbreds were ever stabled in Arizona.

The U. S. Attorney's Office is conducting an investigation today into drouth aid payments made to Arizona cattle ranchers Rex and Reed Ellsworth, former owner of Kentucky Derby winning race horse Swaps.

The relief payments, totalling $23,914 on the Ellsworth ranches near Seligman and Safford were attacked earlier this month in Washington by Sen. John J. Williams (R., Del.), who said the Seligman spread was "one of the country's richest racing stables."

Both ranches were declared ineligible for drouth aid by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and state officers of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee requested that the Ellsworth brothers repay the funds.

A spokesman for the committee said his office is no longer trying to collect the money, explaining that the Ellsworths had not answered letters seeking to recover the funds.

The matter was then turned over to U. S. Attorney Jack D. Hays who is conducting the investigation.

Ellsworth, who sold Swaps in 1957, said after Williams' charge that if he returned the money, a lot of other persons would have to do likewise. He said neither Swaps nor any other of his thoroughbreds were ever stabled in Arizona.

Egypt's Dispute With Sudan Headed For Security Council

KHARTOUM, Sudan — (AP) — Egypt's dispute with Sudan over two border areas was headed for the U.N. Security Council today after top-level talks in Cairo broke down.

Foreign Minister Mohamed Mahgoub reported from Cairo that negotiations with Egyptian President Nasser had been fruitless. The Sudanese Cabinet decided to appeal to the Council.

Egypt claims all territory north of the 22nd Parallel and would yield a small area south of the line.

One Portion
One portion of the disputed territory sought by Nasser is a 6,000-square-mile desert triangle along the Red Sea. It has been run by Sudan to unify administration over the 10,000 wandering tribesmen in the area who move back and forth across the parallel.

The other is a finger extending north from the parallel along the Nile Valley for about 25 miles. The Egyptians claim that the people in the disputed areas have a right to vote in tomorrow's plebiscite to approve the new United Arab Republic of Egypt, and Syria and to elect Nasser as its president.

Election Held
Sudan holds parliamentary elections a week later. For either nation to permit the territories to vote in the other's election might effect its claim to them.

The dispute broke into the open Monday when troops were reported moving into the areas from both sides. Sudan and Egypt denied the troop movements, although Egypt admitted sending in policemen to protect polling places.

Isolated Area Given Enough Food And Fuel

PATTON, Pa. (AP)—Thanks to hard-working railroad and highway crews, enough food and fuel was on hand today in this western Pennsylvania mountain community to supply the 3,000 residents who had been isolated four days by deep snow drifts.

All approaches to the town had been sealed off since Sunday by one of the winter's worst storms. One road finally was opened to one-way traffic.

Last night a supply train of two boxcars and a tank car battled its way through. All the power of five diesel units was used to grind 18 miles from Cresson to Patton in two hours. The trip normally takes an hour.

Happy townspeople met the train and staged an impromptu celebration under floodlights.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Motto.

Tax Cut Diagnosis

THE STATISTICAL markers are sufficiently alarming to suggest to both President Eisenhower and Congress that sharp action may be necessary to arrest and reverse the current recession. But as they contemplate it they can't help worrying over the other peril, a new inflation. The big medicine being talked of now is, of course, a tax cut. At both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue the idea has taken deep hold. Both parties espouse it, though with somewhat different emphasis. Yet Mr. Eisenhower voiced fears that were not his alone when he said there were risks in tinkering with the economy. We are still too close to past inflations not to be concerned about losing another flood as we try to pull out of the drought.

IF THERE IS TO BE a tax slash, the two basic questions naturally are how big and for how long. The feeling in Washington is growing that unless the business improvement occurs which the President predicts for March, a cut of at least five billion dollars may be needed to give the economy any kind of useful jolt at all. Some think that if the move is too long delayed the shot in the arm might have to be twice as big. Considering a 10-billion-dollar reduction could give many in the capital the shakes, however, when they look ahead to what might happen when the economy really gets racing again.

THAT'S WHY the notion of an automatic stopper—an expiration date for the lower tax rate—may become increasingly popular both at the White House and on Capitol Hill. A limit of a year or 10 months on a cut may be figured a wise hedge against a sudden spurt of new inflation. The expiration date device is a very practical one for Congress to use. It is almost always easier to get the lawmakers not to do something than to take action. In such a case as this, the tax slash would end without anyone lifting a finger. To many Americans who may have the same fears felt by their Washington leaders, the tax cut with a limit date may look sensible. They want the big medicine, but they can see the danger of letting the prescription run on indefinitely.

Hollywood's Chance

THE CRISIS IN THE motion picture industry appears to be partially, if not wholly, separable from the current recession. Television is clearly the cause of the present plight of the motion picture industry. The unloading of pre-1948 films so that these can be viewed on television is sufficient to explain why the motion picture studios are having headaches and why distributors are deep in trouble. In order to compete more safely with television, the motion picture as seen in theaters must be better than it is. The picture at the theater must be so good that it makes people willing to leave their homes and pay to see a film rather than view one without charge on television. This is a crisis, but it leads to the crux of the matter. Inescapable changes and reorganization will now come in the motion picture industry, and quickly. Hollywood, in these circumstances, does have a chance to grow up. But it may be Hollywood's last chance.

Back Scout Drive

AS AMERICA'S 4,750,000 Boy Scouts celebrate their 48th birthday this month, they are throwing their youthful energies into one of the best causes they ever backed—safety in the home, outdoors, and on the nation's streets and highways. Their 1958 anniversary program is called the National Safety Good Turn, and it is in support of the steady purposes of the National Safety Council, long the country's chief organizer of accident prevention campaigns. The Scout program, a year-long affair, is intended to enlist the youth of America in safety measures, and through them to help cut down the heavy toll of death from accidents in traffic and elsewhere. The Scouts will be planning and carrying out all kinds of projects, from the community down to the individual. As they work earnestly for safety, they deserve the full-hearted cooperation of all Americans, young and adult.

Faubus Hopes Yankee Scorn Will Help Him

WASHINGTON — Republicans who have recently had their troubles with fund-raising dinners can relax. The Democrats are about to surpass them with a striking new version of the famous "Kautzman-Hart farce," "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Gov. Orval Faubus of Little Rock, Arkansas, has notified the National Committee that he and friends will be on hand next Saturday to help pay tribute to Jefferson, Jackson and Harry S. Truman at the annual $100-a-plate dinner here. A king cobra poised to strike could not be less welcome at what was planned as a smashing denunciation of the Eisenhower Administration and all its works.

MR. TRUMAN, National Chairman Paul Butler, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and practically all Democrats except John Kasper and members of the White Citizens Councils have reacted as if they already felt snake venom coursing through their veins. They will not, repeat not, sit at table with Faubus or acknowledge his presence in any way.

They are of course aware that the presence of Faubus will focus attention on the civil rights split in their party and detract from their assault upon the opposition. The Arkansas Governor is putting on the spot, too, every Southerner who would like to be loyal to the party and pursue a course of moderation.

YET ALL THE established protocol of politics dictates not only Faubus' right to attend the dinner, but protect his gubernatorial prerogatives. Some Governors—Harriman is one—can sit with Truman at the head table on the sound ground that they were prominent members of his official family. The rest, by established practice, should receive equal rights with respect to attention, seating position on the floor and related honors.

Faubus' own motivations are entirely clear. He wants to break the third-term jinx which has hitherto prevailed in Arkansas and he is merely seizing an opportunity to pose as a great white supremacy knight being challenged, insulted and mistreated by the Yankees.

He is already under attack by a hopeful rival, State Attorney General Bruce Bennett, for being an expedient, temporary segregationist. Bennett is charging that Faubus is the party and a recent and suspect convert to white supremacy, a cause to which Bennett says he has been dedicated since infancy.

THE RECORD shows that nothing helps a bloody-shirt Democrat in the South more than assaults from the Eastern press and Yankees generally. The late Senator Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi should really have picked up the check for those New York dinners given over to denunciation of his life and works.

The more Faubus is cold-shouldered here, the more it will probably help him at home. No other reason for his desiring to attend an affair at which he is not welcome could exist.

MANAGERS of the dinner cling to the hope that Faubus is bluffing; they say he cannot really want to face the ice-cold climate of Washington where no voices have been raised in defense of his actions at Little Rock. If no other reason existed, the adverse impact of Little Rock on foreign policy insures that Faubus is bad news here.

But there is still no evidence that he will not be present Saturday, hogging the spotlight.

Anti-Benson Book Seen As Political Fuel

WASHINGTON — NEA — The most vicious hatchet job yet done on Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has appeared here in a pocket-size book by Wesley McCune, for the last two years public relations director for National Farmers' Union, bitter Benson foe.

From 1946 to 1953 McCune was executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Brannan. For the next three years McCune was farm expert for Democratic National Committee. This makes his new book, "Ezra Taft Benson—Man With a Mission," pretty much of a political campaign document for 1958.

It opens with an accusation that Secretary Benson proposed reduction of minimum price support level from 90 to 75 per cent of parity at the same time Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell was advocating increase of minimum industrial wage from 75 to 90 cents an hour.

THE BOOK'S introduction goes on from there to accuse Secretary Benson of these other inconsistencies:

That he is a leading advocate of economy, though his department is now spending more money per year than his predecessors.
That he decries politics, but has made more speeches and done more traveling than any Cabinet member except Secretary Dulles.
That he attacks government interference with agriculture, though the Soil Bank is the biggest of all interference schemes.
With this introduction, the author goes on to examine Secretary Benson's religious background for his agricultural reform crusade. His career from Mormon missionary to his position as one of the 12 Apostles of the Church of Latter Day Saints is reviewed.

IN PERSONAL criticism of this kind, McCune's book may be considered as going too far. It could conceivably backfire politically. For whatever objections may have been raised to Benson's policies, his sincerity has heretofore not been questioned. McCune does just this, however, by reciting Benson's troubles.

The 125-page book pulls together all the charges that have been hurled against Benson, in Congress and out. The list includes: the firing of Wolf Ladiwinski; the resignation of Farmers Home Administrator Robert McCleach; Benson's letter to Harper's magazine in praise of an article criticizing farmers; charges of favoritism in disposal of stocks of dried peas, seed, Cheddar cheese and other commodities; the 1954-election-year feed support program, the 1956 Soil Bank program, the acreage reserve part of which the administration now seeks to abandon.

IN A SHORT final chapter McCune offers a summary on U.S. farm conditions after five years of Benson policies.
He reports the index of farm prices down from 267 to 243. The index of things farmers buy is up from 282 to 296.
Farm income has dropped from 15 billion dollars in 1952 to under 12 billion dollars for the last three years, with a total loss for the past five years of over 14 billion dollars.
Average per capita farm income is up from $1,500 to $2,000. The farm share of the consumer dollar is down from 47 to 33 cents.
Meanwhile government surpluses have risen from one billion dollars in 1952 to over five billion dollars in 1957.

SECRETARY Benson's previous answers to many of these figures have been that they are due primarily to Democratic farm policies which the Republican administration inherited and has had to carry out. If these policies could be changed to President Eisenhower's program, his secretary of agriculture is convinced things would get better.

As if anticipating some such general indictment as is contained in the new McCune book, Secretary Benson in his National Press Club speech charged that his critics have resorted to "vicious truths" to block his program.

He denies that he is trying to scrap all price supports. And he sticks doggedly to his belief that past farm prosperity was due to government administered, high, fixed price supports.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK, N. Y. — This is a sort of middle part of the year in which it sometimes makes sense to investigate anything new in the household heating and cooling systems, plus new gadgets pertaining to same.

There doesn't seem to be a startling development in sight (unless that Swedish engineer comes through for me), but in the event you were depressed by Russia's satellite didos (until ours soared up and stayed there), there is some good news. The Russians are not very efficient house heaters.

FRANKLIN Greene is my expert on the heating and cooling horizons, and he is a high-powered hydronics man. Hydronics is the science of either heating or cooling by liquids and Mr. Greene takes a disturbed and unhappy view of any capping jokersmith who spells it "hydronics."

"The Russians have a sputnik; let them keep it," he said. "I see no reason to tamper with spelling in this country."

"Are you interested in space in any way?"

"Indoor space," he said. "I am dedicated to cooling or heating it. Let the Russians do that for themselves, too. I'm not interested. But I can tell you they don't do it too well in spite of porcelain stoves and other gimmicks of ancient invention."

"THERE IS practically no central heating here. Let's call it 'very little.' And what they have is ineffective. They cannot begin to match our development and wide use of baseboard or radiant panel heat, for example. Nor do they have a forced hot water system of any known effectiveness. The truth is, they don't seem to have it at all."

"What we have is plain wonderful. They are superior systems. They give off both radiant and convected heat."

"I like the words," I said.

"and now define them for me."

"RADIANT heat," he said, "works like the rays of the sun in that it warms everything in the room — walls, floors, furniture, lamps, people. Convected heat warms the air. In turn, warm air warms other things."

"What's being worked on?"
"Many companies in the industry are hard at work on special developments and projects. Obviously, radiant heat is going to be useful before too long. It is useful now in gigantic ways. But to harness it down to small ways is another problem."

"Solar heat is getting experimentation in areas of Florida, Texas and similar places where the sun may be depended on enough to create focused heat and permit storage against dark days."

"I would say that anybody not ordering heating fuel between now and May 1st because of this would be added. Neither system is that close. They are laboratory toys at the moment. Indeed, for at least the next decade, perhaps longer, perhaps as much as two decades, hot water heating and chilled water cooling will stay out in front of anything else."

"CHILLED water cooling," I said, "is a matter of cabinet and focus. Actually, the old Romans used to pack hollow walls with snow to achieve cooling and that amounts to chilled water cooling."

"It does," said Mr. Greene. "We have packaged it in new ways, learned to control and harness it, but in substance, chilled water cooling is an ancient device. The Better Heating-Cooling Council would never deny old truths."

"If the old boys had stuffed metal pipes with water and put coils over flame, they would have had hot water heating, too. It isn't the concept that counts — it's the advances in efficiency."

No argument.

Reporter's Notebook

By PATRICK MASSEY
For Hal Boyle

LONDON — A shy young man walked into Dorothy Wilding's photographic studio one day and had his picture taken.

The day was 30 years ago. The young man later became the Duke of Kent, who died in a World War II plane crash.

Looking back, Dorothy Wilding mused: "That was my first royal portrait. Some years later he came in for a picture with his fiancée, Princess Marina of Greece."

PLUMP, DYNAMIC and in her late 50s, Miss Wilding has spent a lifetime making pictures of the world's famous faces.

At her discreet Mayfair studio the telephone may ring anytime from Buckingham Palace. Seven times she has been summoned to photograph Queen Elizabeth II.

The first time was a family picture at Buckingham Palace on the coronation of King George VI in 1937.

And when she acceded to the throne, the Queen commissioned a Wilding portrait to adorn Britain's postage stamps.

THE DUKE OF WINDSOR in his brief reign as King Edward VIII gave up the throne before a sitting could be arranged.

Some years later he kept the appointment at Miss Wilding's studio in New York.

"Sitting alone in front of the camera he seemed quite sad," Miss Wilding said.

"But as soon as the duchess walked into the studio his eyes lit up like magic."

Elder statesman Bernard Baruch was the only sitter who ever went to sleep before Miss Wilding's camera.

"Such a charming old boy. He came along feeling drowsy after lunch. While I was adjusting the lights he dozed off. His secretary nudged him gently and he woke up and apologized."

Author Somerset Maugham was firm on one point. "Don't take the wrinkles out of my face," he ordered.

Eat Lots And Grow Slim

NEW YORK — It has long been a curiosity to many American housewives, as they broil their beef until it is well dead, how the Chinese live so long and stay so slim.

All that rice. And everything boiled in oil. Not to mention eight courses on weekdays and 16 on Sundays and holidays.

"A sure yardstick of the health of a civilization," said the Chinese cooking teacher in explanation, "is how that civilization eats."

The audience, all lady editors with chicken salads under their belts, was rapt.

MRS. DOROTHY LEE, who gives a course in cookery at the China Institute, continued. She pointed out that most vegetables require two to three minutes cooking, and meat in tidbit form takes about the same amount over high heat. The audience could not help but be conscience struck, recalling last night's home cooked American meal.

Those limp globs of broccoli brought back to life with rich Hollandaise; the frozen candied yams adhering first to aluminum foil, later to newly discovered cavities; the beef patty parched for ketchup.

"CHINESE," Mrs. Lee went on, "believe that a dining table is a very pleasant and social place. The sight of knives on the table is just appalling. This is one reason we cut up vegetables and meats into little pieces, and the meats are cooked so tender they can be broken up with chopsticks."

She grinned prettily, rubbing soy sauce into the wounds. "The vegetables also are cut up small to hasten cooking, and this preserves all vitamins and makes colors and textures vivid and crisp."

She demonstrated—turning out, in four minutes over a towering gas flame a meat-vegetable dish that was fit for a Ming. Or a magazine illustration.

"It is with this fast cooking that Chinese banquets used to have 64 courses. Now they have only sixteen."

YET CHINESE are slim people, seldom overweight; they live to ripe ages than nationalities which eat less but heavier foods.

"Funny thing," Mrs. Lee explained, "the chief difference between American and Chinese vegetable cooking is that oil-vegetable oil—is the Chinese cooking medium while you favor water in the U.S. Yet fat makes up less than 10 per cent of the Chinese diet, and over 40 per cent of the average American food intake is fats."

The secret: They use very little oil—just enough "to marry up the vegetable and meat"—while most other nationalities glob butter on everything after it is cooked.

MRS. LEE created a magnificent culinary concoction in honor of the new McCune book. Secretary Benson in his National Press Club speech charged that his critics have resorted to "vicious truths" to block his program.

He denies that he is trying to scrap all price supports. And he sticks doggedly to his belief that past farm prosperity was due to government administered, high, fixed price supports.

of the Chinese new year, which is currently being celebrated in New York's Chinatown. Called "Wu Liu Yu" (meaning "five-willow fish"), which consists of a steamed carp overlaid with a leafy pattern of pungent sauce containing shreds of bamboo shoots, mushrooms, ham, green and sweet pepper and scallions.

"This is a celebration dish, and takes a long time," she said.

It took 20 minutes.

THE AUDIENCE, already green with envy at her cooking technique, turned green with typical American stomach timidity as she laid the fish on the platter, with all his parts, from eye to tail, intact.

"The Chinese," teacher said softly, "believe that everything should have a beginning and an end."

Statistical

AN ECONOMIST was seeking to point up the danger of thinking about human affairs strictly in terms of statistics. To illustrate, he asked a man to tell how much whiskey he drank in a year and how much that would be in drinks per day. The man came up with an amount that trailed about one ordinary-sized drink daily.

"No man," the economist said, "can get drunk on one drink per day. So this proves statistically that you never get drunk."

Everyone had a good laugh at that. The man who had been quizzed laughed hardest of all.

Dr. Edward Teller's reputation as a nuclear physicist is deservedly very high. He has been dubbed "father of the hydrogen bomb." He is unquestionably one of the world's outstanding men in his field. Yet Dr. Teller has been guilty of "proving" that atomic fall-out is nothing to worry about, just as the economist "proved" that the one-drink-a-day man could not possibly get drunk.

In a Life magazine article, Dr. Teller minimized the hazards of fall-out as part of his argument for the continuation of nuclear bomb tests.

He noted that being overweight is bad for one's health. Then he said that radioactive fall-out from bomb tests made thus far is no more dangerous to individuals than the world's population than a one-ounce gain in weight would be.

This is a specious argument. It ignores the fact that fall-out tends to concentrate in some regions, and particularly under certain conditions. Radioactivity does not descend like a mild statistical rain, with exactly so much allotted to each of the world's two and a half billion people.

Some, despite the statistics, are going to get more of it than others. They may be hurt, just as the one-drink-a-day man nevertheless got drunk.

One good thing about it, when a TV program is taken off the air—the commercials go with it.

The number of night baseball games to be played this year indicates fewer people will be going home from the office sick.

George Dixon

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — California Republicans in Congress are expressing concern, not too privately, that Senator William F. Knowland is talking to himself too much in his campaign to be the Golden State's governor. By this they mean that the Senate minority leader is concentrating upon his own kind instead of wooing the undecided and hostile.

One of the most frank critics of the way Knowland is trying to sell those who are already sold on his ideas is Rep. Patrick J. Hillings, the GOP aspirant for attorney general of California. Hillings told a group of Republicans here recently:

"Bill Knowland should follow the example of the late Robert A. Taft. When Bob Taft was up against an especially tough fight in 1950 to be re-elected Senator from Ohio he did not ignore the Labor vote, although he knew it was predominantly hostile. He began making the rounds of factories addressing the workmen."

"At first they booed him a lot. This would have discouraged many campaigners, but not Bob Taft. He kept pounding his ideas at the Labor group, and after a while they began listening. As a result he obtained Labor votes which, in the beginning, seemed impossible to capture."

"BILL KNOWLAND ought to do a Bob Taft. If he doesn't soon quit concentrating on convincing voters who already agree with him, and go after those who don't, he's going to blow a lot of possibilities."

Rep. Hillings has considerably more than party feeling about the way Knowland is conducting his campaign. "If the minority leader, as head of the state ticket, conducts a faulty battle against his Democratic rival for the governorship, Attorney General Edmund G. 'Pat' Brown, it is going to have a damaging effect upon Hillings' fight with Los Angeles County Supreme Court Judge Stanley Mosk for the attorney generalship."

The other California GOP Congressmen aren't as concerned for themselves as Hillings, but most are critical about Knowland's self-communication, although not as openly. They want him to risk possible catcalls and make a pitch for a few hundred thousand voters who may not cheer every remark he utters.

RICHARD B. LOWE, the Governor of Guam, dropped in to pay his respects to Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton the other day. Lowe happened to mention that he had an engagement later with Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, so Seaton assigned one of his aides, Bill Arnold, to escort him to College Park.

On the way, their car gave a few warning hisses and caught on fire. The governor scrambled out and wildly waved down one of those mammoth trailer trucks. The truckman shot out the flames with his fire extinguisher, but warned the governor against starting the car up again until it had been checked by a mechanic.

Lowe waited that the university proxy was waiting to receive him. The truckster pointed to his cab and said: "Hop in. I'll take you."

The helpful fellow swung his mastodontic vehicle into the college driveway, ignoring the outraged cries of the gateman. He roared up the driveway, making students blink, and pulled up grandly before the administration building where Dr. Elkins was waiting with other members of the faculty.

The Guam governor climbed down from the cab. This section of the academic world was shaken, but stood bravely to carry on. Dr. Elkins and staff welcomed Lowe gravely as if visiting dignitaries always arrived in that fashion.

Telephone Firm Plans Furlough

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. said today it would furlough from 150 to 200 workers on March 1.

The reason, a spokesman said, was a reduction in the amount of new business, such as installing new telephones.

He said that those affected have worked for the company less than a year. Most of the layoffs would be in the Baltimore area, he said. The C&P employs about 11,000 in Maryland.

Toledo, Ohio, is the world's greatest coal shipping port.

Wicomico Judge Dies

SALISBURY (AP)—Benjamin W. Turner, chief judge of Wicomico County Orphans Court, died at his home yesterday after an illness of several months.

The 84-year-old jurist had been on the bench 10 years.

Turner, a native of Salisbury, was a retired foreman of bridge construction for the old Baltimore Chesapeake and Atlantic Railroad Co.

Survivors include his wife and three children: Alwyn, manager of the Laurel, Del., district of the Delaware Power and Light Co.; John of Baltimore, and Mrs. Samuel Adkins of Salisbury.

West Virginia Coal Output Holds Steady

CHARLESTON — Despite the national lag in 1957 output, West Virginia's coal production last year was just 100,000 tons off the 1956 pace.

Figures released today by the State Mines Department showed 150,220,548 tons produced in the year just ended, compared with 155 output of 150,401,233.

The month of December, however, showed a million-ton drop from the comparable month of 1956. The actual figures were 12,181,720 tons for the final month of 1957, compared with 13,306,001 in the year ago month. Still, December production was ahead of November, when the month's total was 11,632,648.

West Virginia coal tonnage has been buoyed particularly by the continuing substantial export demand.

The department's annual report gave average employment for the mining industry in 1957 at 58,391, compared with 56,936 in 1956.

Average number of days worked in commercial mines was down in December to the monthly low point of 17. The high last year was 19 days. The total number of days worked in 1957 for commercial mines was 211, compared with 222 in 1956.

Fatal accidents in 1957 took the lives of 184 miners, compared with 147 in the previous year.

Many Schools Stay Shut In West Virginia

More Snow Expected In Some Sections; Cold Continues

CHARLESTON — Public schools in at least seven West Virginia counties were expected to remain closed until Monday, with those in at least three other counties shut down today.

Schools in 12 counties expected to have opened today included Wood, Kanawha, Pleasants, Tyler, Jackson, Roane, Raleigh, Summers, Logan, Mercer, Wyoming and Fayette.

Fayette schools located where buses could not travel remained closed, however.

Lengthy closures were scheduled for Ritchie, Wirt, Barbour, Boone, Pocahontas, Monongalia and Preston counties.

School closures today were announced by superintendents in Greenbrier, Monroe and Nicholas counties.

The U.S. weather bureau at Kanawha Airport here forecast cloudy and cold weather with snow flurries and snow squalls continuing today throughout West Virginia.

Snow flurries last night amounted to one inch and less, except in the mountainous sections. Temperatures ranged from 12 to 20 degrees in the lowlands, and from five to 12 degrees in the mountains.

TEACHER OF YEAR — Miss Jean Listebarger, second grade teacher in Ames, Iowa, was selected today by McCall's Magazine and the U. S. Department of Education as "America's Teacher of 1953." (AP Photofax)

Peas Porridge
Hot Or Cold

Take a tip from Mother Goose... serve "porrings" of pea soup, either piping hot or frosty cold.

Heat together a can of frozen condensed green pea with ham soup (10½ ounces); a can of frozen cream of potato soup (10½ ounces); and 2 soup cans of water or milk.

Heat until soups are thawed and smooth. Add ½ teaspoon of thyme and a dash of nutmeg for special flavor intrigue.

Chill this mixture, then thin with cold milk to the desired consistency just before serving. This makes enough for 4 to 6 servings.

Pie Of Plenty Is Made
With Biscuit Topping

Many casseroles shine as main dishes. Among the best are those topped with pastry or biscuits. The "crusty" covering blends so well with a savory filling. And it blends right into your food budget, too, because an inexpensive quick bread can make costlier ingredients in such a dish go a long way further. Here are several that will win a place among your family's favorite fall foods.

Pie Of Plenty
1 pound sausage meat
½ cup chopped onion

2½ cups cooked tomatoes (1 pound, 4-ounce can)
1 cup cooked mixed vegetables
Biscuit topping

Mix sausage meat and onion in skillet and brown well. Drain off excess fat. Remove handle from skillet. (If handle is not removable, spread meat mixture in 2-quart casserole.) Top with layer of tomatoes and mixed vegetables. Drop biscuit topping by spoonfuls on vegetables.

Biscuit Topping
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk and stir until flour is well moistened. Drop about half of batter by spoonfuls on sausage-vegetable mixture. Drop remaining batter on ungreased baking sheet. Bake casserole in hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) twenty minutes. Bake drop biscuits fifteen minutes. Makes four servings.

Shrimp Wiggle Busy Wife's Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Every once in awhile someone asks us for a recipe for shrimp wiggle. When we old a friend we didn't know how the dish got its name or where it originated. She hazarded a guess that it originally arrived with the chafing dish. She said her own acquaintance with shrimp wiggle went back to her college dormitory days in the 20's when she and her friends prepared it over canned heat with canned peas, canned shrimp and canned milk. Naturally they served it with crackers.

Sure enough, in Fannie Farmer's "Chafing Dish Possibilities," published in 1898, we find a recipe for shrimp wiggle composed of a thin white sauce and equal parts of cooked shrimp and green peas; salt and pepper are the only seasonings the austere Miss Farmer added. When that other old-time standard work, "The Settlement Cook Book" got around to listing the dish, paprika was included. Later recipes, we notice, sometimes include onions.

SHRIMP WIGGLE was an austere dish when it arrived with the chafing dish but spicy seasonings have been added since then. Now we have it with Worcestershire and Tabasco sauces.

Here's our own latest version of shrimp wiggle—with a goodly amount of Worcestershire sauce, a little Tabasco sauce, as well as a canned pimiento, to give it extra zest. This recipe is a fine one for career girls and busy mothers because it should be left in the refrigerator overnight so the sauce will thin and the flavors develop. We like it served with crisp buttered toast and a crisp tossed salad. Make the toast as usual, then butter it lavishly and put it in the oven on aluminum foil to get really crisp and have the butter soak in.

Fish Get Top Billing
As Lent Season Opens

By The Associated Press

Winter weather was making things tough on the housewife and her food budget this week. In many sections heavy snow and its aftermath made it difficult for her to drive to the supermarket or to walk to the neighborhood grocery. Even when reaching the store was no problem for the customer, getting the food to the store was a real problem for railroad men and truckers. The pipeline bringing food from the farm to market was slowed all along the way.

Distribution problems came on top of the Florida freezes, which sharply curtailed the winter crop of vegetables, bringing about higher prices for those available. Unseasonably cold weather has even worked against the housewife in the fish market, which is a problem with the Lenten season starting.

have specials on codfish, halibut, and swordfish steaks, scallops, flounder and various filets. Stocks of frozen fish products are 3 per cent below a year ago, but still considered ample to meet current needs. The fresh catch is expected to pick up seasonably next month.

Vegetable prices, already pushed up by poor growing weather, went up another notch because of slower distribution. Collards, spinach, broccoli, lettuce and carrots are about the best bargains, although produce men rate them no better than a good buy.

Eastern storage potatoes and both old and new cabbage are sharply higher, making them only a good to fairly good buy. Idaho potatoes and onions are in the same category, although their rise was less drastic. Cauliflower also is somewhat more expensive. Celery became a little cheaper.

Ripe Olives, Romaine
Make Cleopatra Salad

Mellow-flavored ripe olives are combined with crisp romaine in Cleopatra's Salad. Don't be alarmed by the raw egg in the recipe — it imparts a pleasing richness of flavor you'll like. This salad is best with simple accompaniments — perfectly-grilled steaks, baked potatoes and hot coffee.

Cleopatra's Salad
¾ cup olive oil
1 cut clove garlic
1½ cups bread cubes
1 cup ripe olives
3 quarts crisp romaine
½ cup salad oil
Salt
Freshly ground black pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 egg
1½ lemons

Combine olive oil and garlic and let stand at room temperature two or three hours. Re-mix and discard garlic. Toast bread cubes in slow oven crisp and very lightly browned. Cool, spoon over chops.

Make dainty luscious upside down pineapple muffins by mixing a little melted butter, brown sugar and drained canned crushed pineapple in bottom of muffin cups; top with batter and bake. After baking, let stand in pan about one-half minute; then invert pan and lift off after five minutes.

To the pan gravy of braised veal chops add cream (sweet or bread cubes in slow oven crisp) and diced cucumbers; and very lightly browned. Cool, spoon over chops.

Ingredients: 1 package (8 ounces) elbow macaroni, 3 tablespoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice), 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 cup milk, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese (½ pound), 2 tomatoes (skinned and halved with stem ends removed).

Method: Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain. Meanwhile melt butter in medium-sized saucepan over moderately low heat; add onion. Stir in flour, salt, pepper, mustard and paprika. Add milk and mushrooms (including liquid in pan) all at once; cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Add ¼ cup of the cheese, and stir over very low heat until melted. Mix sauce and hot drained macaroni well; turn into 4 individual casseroles—each holding 2 cups. Press a half tomato into the center of each dish; sprinkle tomatoes with remaining ¼ cup cheese. Broil slowly until tomato is hot through and top of macaroni is lightly browned. Makes 4 large servings.

Croquette Capers
Meat croquettes served with a rich cream sauce and tender peas always receive top billing. But for variety, why not vary the sauce... brown gravy, tomato sauce and mushroom sauce are equally as good.

Turkey Supply Rises
Market men say the fish stay farther offshore in the colder weather and fishermen don't like to go as far offshore. This generally means smaller catches and higher prices for fresh fish.

Many supermarket executives tried to solve the distribution problem by featuring turkeys, which are plentiful. Stocks of gobblers on Dec. 1, the most recent count, stood at nearly 222 million pounds. That's 14 per cent above a year earlier and 45 per cent more than average for that time.

Steaks will be the No. 1 attraction in many stores while others will be offering round and rib roasts at bargain prices.

Others, taking notice of Lent, have specials on codfish, halibut, and swordfish steaks, scallops, flounder and various filets. Stocks of frozen fish products are 3 per cent below a year ago, but still considered ample to meet current needs. The fresh catch is expected to pick up seasonably next month.

Vegetable prices, already pushed up by poor growing weather, went up another notch because of slower distribution. Collards, spinach, broccoli, lettuce and carrots are about the best bargains, although produce men rate them no better than a good buy.

Eastern storage potatoes and both old and new cabbage are sharply higher, making them only a good to fairly good buy. Idaho potatoes and onions are in the same category, although their rise was less drastic. Cauliflower also is somewhat more expensive. Celery became a little cheaper.

Vegetable Buys Listed
Cucumbers, beets and Mexican peas are fair buys, while eggplant, peppers, beans and squash are moderate to expensive.

Fresh fruit showed the same overall picture. Florida citrus, which usually is spilling out of the bins at bargain prices in February, is only a fairly good buy this week. So are Washington apples.

Pears, limes and the few remaining Emperor grapes are moderately priced, while lemons and California's navel oranges are more expensive. Avocados are a good buy.

Ever serve shrimp in a cheddar cheese sauce? Good! Season the sauce with Worcestershire and mustard.

Cottage Cheese Pie

An internationally famous dessert, cottage cheese cake, can be given new styling as a pie. And make it the no-bake way by blending the goodness of its cottage cheese, whipped cream, milk and lemon juice ingredients together with unflavored gelatin. The refrigerator does the "cooking" job.

Cottage Cheese Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 cups (16 ounces) creamed cottage cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 9-inch baked pie shell
Fresh strawberries

Mix together gelatin and sugar; add slices of bread with 2-inch top of double boiler. Stir in round cutter; brush with butter milk. Place over boiling water, and bake in hot oven until golden.

PERFECT MATE FOR SEA FOODS

Mincemeat Turnovers Are Hearty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

When you want to serve a hearty dessert you can do no better, in our estimation, than to bake a batch of mincemeat turnovers. They're just right after a supper of fish chowder or scalloped oysters and a tossed green salad. Enliven the salad, if you like, with matchstick-sized strips of Swiss cheese plus chicken and smoked tongue; or choose hard-cooked egg and anchovies for the addition.

Here's our most recent recipe for the turnovers, made from a package of mincemeat and shredded fresh apple plus pie-crust mix enriched with cream. Because the pastries are brushed with egg yolk and milk they have an attractive shiny topping.

These turnovers are an excellent make-ahead dessert. Wrapped tightly and refrigerated for several days, they need only quick reheating in a hot oven before serving.

Mincemeat Turnovers
Ingredients: 1 package (9 ounces) mincemeat, 1 1/2 cups water, 3 tablespoons light brown sugar, 1/2 cup coarsely shredded pared apple, 1 package (10 ounces) golden pie-crust mix, 1/2 cup heavy cream, 1 egg yolk, 2 tablespoons milk.

Method: Break mincemeat into small pieces in medium-size saucepan; add water and brown sugar. Stir over high heat until all lumps are broken; boil briskly for a minute. Remove from heat; stir in grated apples. The mincemeat-apple combination should be thick for the turnovers so you may either drain it well or return to low heat and simmer, stirring often, until there is practically no liquid—10 minutes or more. Make up pie crust according to package directions, but use 1/2 cup cream instead of the water called for. Dough will be stiff and may show cracks. Divide into 2 portions; make a rectangle of each, flattening to 1/2-inch thickness. Chill briefly if desired. Roll out one portion of dough at a time large enough to give four 4-inch squares plus trimmings; use a pastry wheel to cut and a prepared pastry cloth and floured stockinet-covered rolling pin. Put a heaping 1/2-tablespoon of the mincemeat a little off-center of each pastry square; fold over to make a triangle. Prick tops well; press edges together well with fork tines. Roll out and cut the same way; gather trimmings from both batches together and roll out to make two more 4-inch squares. Place turnovers fairly close together on cookie sheet. Beat egg yolk and milk lightly together; brush turnovers with mixture. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot, or refrigerate tightly covered and then heat in very hot oven about 10 minutes. Makes 10 turnovers.

Note: About half of the mincemeat will be used with one package of pastry mix; the remaining should be lightly covered and refrigerated for later use. Any of the egg-yolk glaze leftover can be put in a small covered jar and refrigerated for brushing pastry or cookies.

Cubes For Stews
Beef, veal or lamb are often used in stews. When using veal for a stew, the meat may be cut from any one of the following places: neck, breast, shoulder or flank. Being less tender, the meat is naturally cooked by a moist heat method of meat cookery.

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3/4 cup finely diced onion, 1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut, 3 tablespoons dark brown sugar, salt, pepper, 1 pound frankfurters, 3 tablespoons minced parsley.

Method: Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet; add onions and cook gently, stirring often, until lightly browned. Add sauerkraut, undrained; sprinkle with brown sugar and salt and pepper to taste; mix well. Bury frankfurters in kraut, cover and cook slowly about 20 minutes. Sprinkle with minced parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Processed white rice retains a large percentage of the natural vitamins and minerals of the whole grain; regular white rice, polished or unpolished, has entire outer coating of the bran removed.

Economist Gives Lent Meal Tips

PHOENIX, Ariz. (INS) — Ruth Kruger, home economics specialist for Arizona Public Service Company, offers two easy-to-prepare recipes to housewives planning meatless meals during the Lenten season.

Maine Sardineburgers
2 cans sardines
1 eight-ounce can tomato sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

1/2 pound grated cheese
1/2 teaspoon pepper
salt to taste
1/2 cup salad oil
1/4 cup chopped ripe olives
1 tablespoon minced onions
1/2 cup finely chopped celery

1 tablespoon chopped pimiento. Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Slit six hamburger buns almost through and fill each with sardine mixture. Stand cut side up in casserole. Cover and bake at 300 degrees for 30 minutes. Remove cover and bake 10 minutes.

Mushroom And Cheese Pie
1 eight-ounce can mushroom pieces
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 pie shell
1 cup cream
1/2 cup milk
paprika

1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1/4 cup grated onion
salt and pepper
1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
Drain mushrooms. Scatter mushrooms and cheese evenly over bottom of pie shell. Mix cream and milk in a saucepan; heat to scalding.

Add gradually to beaten eggs, mixing well. Add Worcestershire sauce, onion, salt, pepper and glutamate. Pour mixture over mushrooms and cheese; sprinkle with paprika.

Bake in a 425 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes, or until knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove from oven and allow to stand ten minutes before serving.

Always drain maraschino cherries thoroughly before chopping and adding them to a cake batter.

Gelatin Whip For Dieters

For a weight-watcher with a sweet tooth, serve a Black Cherry Whip.

It's said to be a fruity-fluffy dessert that's happily low in calories.

Dissolve one package black-cherry-flavored gelatin in one cup hot water; add one tablespoon fresh, frozen or canned lemon juice. Chill till partially set. Beat until light and foamy. Add one cup skim milk gradually, beating constantly. Pour into individual molds or sherbet glasses, and chill until firm. This makes nine servings with only 45 calories per serving.

Use Nautical Dip For Refreshments

During Lent Season

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — How about a nautical dip for your next cocktail party, to stay in keeping with the Lent season.

Mix one three-ounce package cream cheese, one tablespoon mayonnaise, one seven-ounce can grated or flaked tuna, one teaspoon prepared horseradish, one-fourth teaspoon garlic salt, one-fourth teaspoon onion salt, one-fourth teaspoon celery salt, set. Beat until light and foamy. Add one cup skim milk gradually, beating constantly. Pour into individual molds or sherbet glasses, and chill until firm. Three Structures Destroyed By Fire

Post Office At Oldtown Included

Blaze Follows Installation Of Fire Unit Officers

An early morning fire today at Oldtown destroyed three buildings, including one that housed the post office and a general store. Nine persons were left homeless in the blaze, which also disrupted telephone and power service for several hours.

Curiously enough, a volunteer fire company had been formed in recent weeks at Oldtown, with officers being installed at a ceremony last night at the Oldtown Sportsmen's Club.

Installed as president of the firefighters was John L. Nixon, Oldtown postmaster and proprietor of the store in which the post office was housed.

The blaze was discovered at approximately 3 a. m., with the volunteer fire companies from North Branch (District 16) and Paw Paw, W. Va., the first to arrive on the scene. In all, five companies were represented at the fire, with several others ordered back by radio when it was determined their assistance was not needed.

Started In Basement

The fire is believed to have started from an overheated furnace in the basement of the post-office-general store. From there the fire spread to an unoccupied residence, and to one in which Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nixon and family resided. Philip Nixon is a brother of the postmaster.

Made homeless in the blaze, besides Mr. and Mrs. Nixon and their two children, were Mr. and Mrs. William McMullen and three children, who had resided in an apartment over the postoffice-general store. Mr. and Mrs. McMullen were not at home at the time of the fire, authorities explaining that they had been residing with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hise, since the recent birth of a child.

Two Cited For Actions

Firemen said it was fortunate no one was injured in the operation and cited the action of two Oldtown residents, Eberly Summers and Donald Steekman, who alerted the neighborhood, apparently shortly after the fire broke out.

As it was, firemen explained, the Nixon family was fortunate in escaping the flames as the fire spread quickly through the frame structures. No possessions were saved from any of the three buildings, it was reported.

The three properties, valued at approximately $20,000, were purchased in recent months from the two Nixon families by a William H. Roff, Washington realtor. Postmaster Nixon estimated his loss in store stock and fixtures at some $5,000. It was not covered by insurance. Temporary surplus food will be distributed today. Distribution had been scheduled Tuesday and yesterday but the storage warehouse is snowbound. The man in charge, Daniel Snouse, is also snowbound on the Gortner Road.

Temporary Setup

The Cumberland Post Office dispatched equipment needed to set up operations at the temporary facility in Oldtown. Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon explaining that all equipment there had been destroyed. Little mail was lost in the conflagration. Nixon explaining the office was cleaned at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Paw Paw and District 16 companies had to run nearly 1,000 feet of hose from a "run" to help fight the fire, while Elmstone, Baltimore Pike and Fort Ashby (W. Va.) companies had to lay about the same length of hose from another stream.

Despite the early arrival of the firemen, the flames had spread so quickly through the dry timber that efforts were directed at saving other adjacent structures. Heat was so intense that the side of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis facing the flames will probably have to be rebuilt. Firemen said the siding was scorched all the way through.

Lines Melted By Heat

Firefighters also had to direct efforts in preventing the spread of the fire to homes and buildings across the street from the blaze. Both power and telephone lines were melted by the heat, and Church, the Holy Name Society service was not restored until the parish: Piedmont Council after 9 a. m. For a while, it appeared that classes would not be held today at Oldtown Elementary, Fourth Degree K. of C. tary and High Schools, since the loss of power shut off heat in the building. Joseph Pelleri, principal, directed bus drivers to re-land, Ore., and Frank Mansfield, main at the school until it was West Hyattsville; a daughter, (Continued on Page 22)

Frozen Pipes, Milkless Children—Garrett Saga

By MRS. VIRGINIA FIZER
Times Oakland Reporter

OAKLAND—The blizzard which has held Garrett County in a tight grip for about three weeks has been no respecter of officeholders or plain citizens.

A judge without water, a father walking 12 miles to get milk for his children, a poultry grower without food for his chickens—these and many other accounts make up the saga of this mountain land.

Yesterday the water main on Fourth Street froze and the home of Judge Neil C. Fraley was without water. But this was only a small part of the water main story as many lines in this county seat community were frozen. Sometimes water reached homes but the pipes in the houses froze, including those of this writer.

Melt Snow For Water
I have been carrying water for drinking purposes and melting snow to get water for other uses. Many other Oakland residents have been doing the same thing. H. D. Swartzentruber, president of the Board of Garrett County Commissioners, who resides near Gortner, reached Oakland today for the first time this week. He had been snowbound. He said the snow was piled to within two feet of the top of an awning over his front door, and that the door is raised three steps from the ground.

Commissioner A. C. Brenneke, of Hays, reports drifts 12 feet high in that area. Fuel is also a problem and William Finch, of Avilion, has been using a disc sled to haul coal a half mile from the highway to his home. The coal was dumped on the road because the truck could not reach the Finch home. He has been using a ton a week. Last night Deputy Sheriff Bruce Close and Bookkeeper Virgil Stoyer of the County Roads Department drove and walked 20 miles to the home of Charles Moreland, of Oak Grove Road, near Gorman, to deliver medicine for an ill Moreland child.

Schools Still Closed
R. A. Lewis has been hauling coal to the Swallow Falls section but residents of that area have had to make deliveries to their homes by carrying it in sacks for distances up to a mile. Beelyn Holler, of the Cherry Creek Road, near McHenry, has appealed to several sources to get feed to his 5,000 chickens.

A woman in the Gorman section asked for coal and food for herself and four children. Supplies went out last night. The court house was closed Monday and Tuesday. Frozen pipes caused the closing.

It was indicated today schools will not be opened before Monday. Alvey Thomas of Crellin walked 12 miles each way yesterday to Oakland to get milk for his four children. He said some drifts were waist high.

An unidentified man, living near Friendsville, walked three miles to Hays for food yesterday. He said he was low on coal but plans to burn wood. It was announced today that postal headquarters have been scheduled Tuesday and yesterday but the storage warehouse is snowbound. The man in charge, Daniel Snouse, is also snowbound on the Gortner Road.

Born in Westernport, he was a son of the late William F. and Mary M. (Carney) Mansfield.

Mr. Mansfield had retired in 1955 after operating a newsstand in Piedmont for 20 years. He had served as a trial magistrate under the late Gov. Albert C. Ritchie. Mr. Mansfield was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society and the Knights of Columbus, and he had been a member of the local Elks Club.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary F. Mansfield, and two sons, Joseph and Frank Mansfield, both of whom are in the service. He was a member of the local Elks Club.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the funeral home of J. H. Hyattsville, a daughter, (Continued on Page 22)

Tax Proposal Opposed By Shore Group

Merchants And State Would Lose Revenue, Declare Opponents

ANNAPOLIS—Any increase in the Maryland sales tax would add impetus to already declining revenues to the State, a spokesman for Eastern Shore merchants declared today.

Jeremiah Valliant, president of the Salisbury City Council and representative of that city's retail association, told a House Ways and Means Committee that "we are already suffering from inequality of competitive opportunity."

Valliant was the principal spokesman for an Eastern Shore demonstration against Gov. McKeeldin's proposed increase in the sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent. House Chamber Packed
The protesters packed the House chamber in the biggest outpouring of this session.

Valliant said it was his "intention to show the damaging effects of the sales tax" bill would inflict on our business and how it would further reduce the State's already declining participation in the present sales tax and use tax.

"We do not recommend abolishing the present 2 per cent sales and use tax which now places us in an unequal competitive position with Virginia and Delaware."

"We do not want further inequality of competitive opportunity thrust upon us."

Valliant said the State is losing, as well as merchants. Although the population of Wicomico County has increased, collection of sales taxes there has declined from 2.11 per cent in 1955 to 1.83 last year.

Customers Avoid Tax
"Customers out of state are avoiding the sales tax," he concluded. "Our merchants' costs go up and most important there is unequal competitive opportunity."

Valliant explained that merchant cost has gone up because more and more out-of-state customers are buying by mail to avoid the Maryland tax.

The House committee hearing was called at the request of the Wicomico delegation in response to protests throughout the shore area for a chance to make an appearance.

They came in a long motorcade which wound its way from Worcester, Somerset, Wicomico, Talbot, Caroline and Queen Anne's counties.

Salisbury merchants were so aroused that they called a holiday and closed their stores.

Holiday At Stores
Salisbury is only 7 miles from Delaware and 30 from Virginia. Today's hearing was the first public showing on the proposed sales tax increase. The governor also has urged the Legislature to raise the income tax from 2 to 3 per cent, but it is resting comfortably until outcome of attempts to cut the budget is known.

The Eastern Shore delegation has informally pledged itself to (Continued on Page 22)

OLDTOWN FIRE RUINS—A fire early this morning destroyed two homes and the building which housed the post office and general store at Oldtown. Nine persons were left homeless in the blaze, with damage estimated at $25,000. The blaze is believed to have started from an overheated furnace in the basement of the post office building, shown in the picture above. At top, is a view of the overall fire scene.

Heat from the blaze was so intense that firemen had to protect the homes and buildings on the side of street from where the pictures were taken. Postal service headquarters have been set up at the home of Chester Carder, a rural carrier, according to John L. Nixon, postmaster. Power and telephone service was disrupted for several hours as a result of melted lines.

C&A Hearing Recessed To Allow Study

People's Counsel Asks Delay After Firm Outlines Program

BALTIMORE—A hearing on the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Co.'s rate boost request for Maryland consumers has been recessed pending a study of company testimony by People's Counsel Wilfred T. McQuaid.

McQuaid told the Public Service Commission yesterday he hopes to advise them by next Wednesday when he will be ready to proceed. The recess was granted at McQuaid's request after company witnesses outlined their proposal for the PSC.

Serves 21,000 Customers

The rate boosts are being opposed by eight industrial users in Allegany and Garrett counties and by the City of Cumberland.

C & A services 21,000 customers in Cumberland and Western Maryland.

A company attorney, J. W. Avirett, said the increase would hike by 81 cents a month the bills of customers using gas for cooking, water heating and clothes drying.

He said families also using gas for house heating purposes would pay about $2.11 more a month.

The C & A is asking a rate schedule to bring in about $465,000 more a year and up its rate of return from 4.1 to 6.75 per cent, the company said.

Cumberland Represented
William C. Walsh, a former judge, and William A. Gunter, former State senator, are representing eight firms opposing the rate hike.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney for Cumberland, also appeared before the commission yesterday to oppose the increase.

They said further boosts might hamper industrial development in the two counties and that some industrial users "may find it economically advisable to . . . return to the use of coal."

R. H. Weitzel, assistant chief engineer for the firm, told the PSC yesterday the C & A has spent more than 20 million dollars for improvements since 1945 and contemplates spending $2,800,000 for construction this year.

Pastor Held For Action Of Jury

Rev. Raymond Carpenter, former pastor of the Wiley Ford Nazarene Church, is being held under $1,600 bond for action of the March grand jury of Pocahontas County (W. Va.) Circuit Court on a charge of abducting a 15-year-old schoolgirl.

His wife posted similar bond on the same charge at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Robert Gilmore.

The girl, Patricia Ellen Lantz, a student at Green Bank High State School, was found Monday in the Mt. Milton at the home of a relation, St. Mary's, Front, section of Rev. Mr. Carpenter's.

Miss Lantz, 15, was living effort to maintain traffic on U. S. under an assumed name, according to West Virginia State Police.

Set. W. E. Webb, who directed the investigation after the girl disappeared January 24, said the girl was in the Mt. Storm section.

Police Foil Entry

City Police last night foiled an attempted entry of an appliance store on South Mechanic Street, long period of time in many Detective Harry L. Iser said he was driving in a cruiser when he noticed a person standing on an automobile in a used car lot, attempting to enter through a window in the establishment. The person escaped before Detective Iser could reach the scene, he reported.

Main Roads Opened By Tired Crews

Some Workers On Job Since Sunday; Mercy Up Slightly

"We think we've turned the corner."

That was the opinion of the district officials of the State Roads Commission as far as storm-bound Garrett County is concerned.

At noon today, came the welcome report that Route 219 was opened all the way from the north to the south borders of Garrett County. That important route was blocked yesterday and today in the Keyser's Ridge area. Route 40 also was clear after plows worked their way through deep drifts just a few hundred yards west of the Keyser's Ridge intersection of that highway and Route 219.

SRC Fortunate

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, said the SRC has been fortunate in that the equipment and men have held up well.

But, noting the change in the battle of the elements in their favor, said the men are thin with faces drawn from having to work long hours in near zero blizzards.

Some of the men who live at Accident left their homes Sunday, and haven't returned since, as they fought to keep Route 219 open.

Trouble points reported yesterday were cleared up by this morning. Those were on Route 417 the Grantsville-Springs road; 560, from Loch Lynn to Gorman; Route 38 to Kitzmiller and Route 135 on Backbone Mountain.

More Snow Falls

Crews were at work today on Route 495, which leads from Grantsville through Bittinger to Swanton.

The Weather Bureau came up with the best cure for snowbound Maryland today as warmer weather was predicted.

However, there were an additional three inches of snow yesterday in Garrett County, plus another inch that fell during the night. This morning, some snow was falling.

In parts of Western Maryland the temperature is expected by evening to be somewhere between 32 and 37 degrees.

In Constitution Park, for instance, the noon reading was 27 degrees, and snow began to thaw in the streets. Downtown readings were around 35 degrees.

15 At Accident

Oakland at noon had 16 degrees and Accident, 15 degrees. The forecast for that county calls for it to be fair tonight, with the low near 12. Tomorrow is to be fair with little change in temperature.

Tomorrow night that county is to be cloudy, and Saturday is to see some rain or snow.

Allegany County is to have an overnight low of between 12 and 20 degrees and tomorrow is to be fair with little change in temperature. Saturday is to be cloudy and a little warmer.

In observing the battle to keep the main highways open in Garrett County, Chaires noted that supplemental equipment had to be hired along with operators.

Eight bulldozers are augmenting the plows and rotary "blowers." It has been so cold that operators have had to work ten to 15-minute shifts on the dozers because the wind and temperature has been so drastic.

Drifts Too High

The big bulldozers were called out at a number of places when the snow drifted too high for the regular side-sweep and V-plows could not be effective.

The "blower," or huge rotary plow, has been indispensable in working around the clock in an effort to maintain traffic on U. S. Route 50.

The important highway, which has been kept open by Maryland the investigation after the girl disappeared January 24.

But Greyhound buses have been going through all during this stormy period, and the highway has only been closed until the rotary could get to the trouble points.

One-Way Traffic

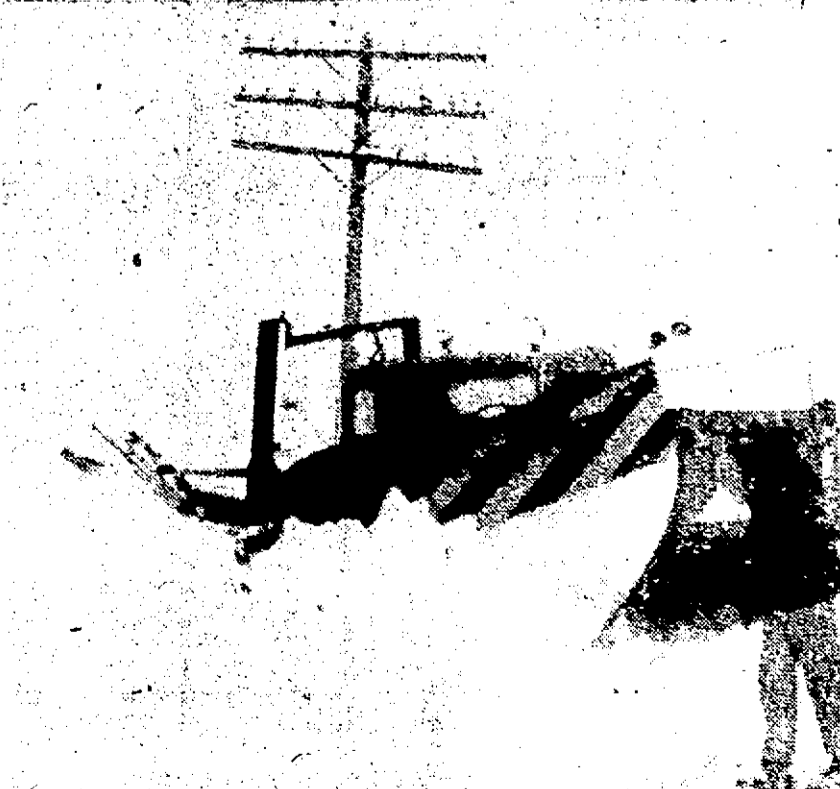

A West Virginia SRC worker said tractor trailers have had some trouble getting through. There was one-way traffic this morning at points, and the road was icy.

This morning there were nearly ten rigs stopped at the state line at Gorman, W. Va., and Gorman, Md.

Both West Virginia and Maryland SRC workers term this winter as being the hardest over a long period of time in many years.

Chaires said some winters have had more snow, and others have seen lower temperatures, but none in his experience has been so severe over a long period of time.

He said this weekend will mark (Continued on Page 22)

BATTLE OF MAN WINTER—A bulldozer and snowplow worked continuously yesterday on Route 40 in the vicinity of Layman's farm near Frostburg to clear the road for two-way traffic. Due to snow and wind, motorists were unable to see more than three or four power pole spans at one time. Vehicles used lights to traverse. The above scene is seven miles west of Frostburg.

Temple, Duke Drive Toward Post-Season Tournaments

Both Spring Late Rallies To Extend Win Streaks

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Temple and Duke, a couple of basketball stretch runners, are driving toward the post-season college tournaments with the stamp of a champ.

Both Temple, No. 6 nationally, and Duke, No. 7, were off their feed in road games but straightened out in the late going to keep their budding winning streaks intact.

Rodgers Held To 14
Temple's went to 18 with a 61-49 victory over Wake Forest at Winston-Salem, although the Owls' hit only 20 per cent of their first half shots. Guy Rodgers managed only 14 points and the Deacons trailed by only five points with less than four minutes to play.

Duke, winning its 10th straight for a 15-5 record, needed a 16-point streak midway of the second half to wrap up Navy 77-63 at Annapolis after the Middles led by eight with 12 minutes left.

Navy outscored Duke 17-2 to move into a 46-38 lead before Duke Coach Hal Bradley switched to a zone defense. That did the job as the Devils reeled off 16 straight points for a 54-46 advantage.

Kelly Coleman, Kentucky Wesleyan hotshot, bagged 40 in an 83-69 whipping of Louisville.

LaSalle, Cats Win
La Salle and Villanova were winners in a double-header at Philadelphia's Palestra. Sub Tom Garbera came off the bench after La Salle stumbled for five minutes and scored 20 in leading an 88-60 rout of Scranton. Villanova, with 6-8 soph John Scott hitting 19, downed Penn 73-61.

Sophomore Darryle Kouns of Army set a club season scoring record of 492 points with 25 in a 100-81 victory over Williams, and Niagara, warming up for the National Invitation Tournament, bounced the Quantico Marines 88-66.

Also-Runs Tangle
In ACC Tonight

By The Associated Press
Duke's bubbling Blue Devils have added to the long shadow they cast over the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball race.

The ACC top-rankers improved their winning chain to 10 games Saturday by defeating non-league Navy, 77-63, at Annapolis, Md.

Meanwhile, last-place Wake Forest fell victim as the nationally sixth-ranked Temple Owls collected their 18th straight victory, 61-49, at Winston-Salem, N. C., in another non-league affair.

Whether the Duke shadow belongs to a persistent giant killer will be determined as the nationally seventh-ranked Blue Devils play their final ACC season games. Third-place and 14th-ranked Maryland comes to Duke tomorrow. Duke goes to fifth-place Virginia Tech. Second-place and 16th-ranked North Carolina is on tap Feb. 23 at Durham, N. C.

Tonight, two "also-rans" battle it out to break their six-game losing streaks. Clemson, in sixth place with a 3-9 mark, is at seventh-place South Carolina (2-8), which won, 74-67, when the clubs met last month.

Terps' Al Bunge Makes All-ACC

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Five New York-Jersey area basketball players are on the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team selected for the Associated Press by sports writers and radio and television sportscasters.

North Carolina, winner of the national title last year, placed two men on the top five, with Virginia, Clemson and Maryland each gaining one berth.

Two "Yankee" imports representing North Carolina on the top unit are Pete Brennan of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Tommy Kearns of Bergenfield, N. J. Rounding out the team are Herb Busch of Virginia, Short Hills, N. J.; Vince Yockel of Columbia, Jersey City, N. J.; and Al Bunge of Maryland, Palmyra, N. Y.

Brennan also gained the team captaincy by virtue of being named on the first five by each of the 35 men voting throughout the conference area. Voting was for first and second teams, regardless of position.

The second team included John Nacincik, Maryland and Bucky Allen, Duke.

4,000th Win Eludes Arcaro

ARCADIA, Calif. (INS)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro tries again today to boot in the 4,000th winner of his illustrious turf career.

It was his 52nd birthday yesterday and he tried for a win as a present to himself.

However, the best he could do was second in two races. He finished out of the money in one and was scratched in a fourth.

He has three mounts today and all of them are among the top contenders.

Arcaro flies to Florida tomorrow to ride Bold Ruler in the Widener Cup at Hialeah on Saturday.

Bobcats Seen New Favorite WVIAC Event

By DICK LEONARD

BUCKHANNON, W. Va. (AP)—All signs pointed to West Virginia Wesleyan as the team to beat for the 21st State Conference Tournament basketball title as quarter-finals play got under way today.

Top-seeded West Virginia Tech met Glenville State at 1:30 p.m. and third-seeded Fairmont State took on upset-minded Morris Harvey at 3:10 p.m. to wind up the day's action in the rugged upper bracket.

Cats Play Bethany
In the much easier lower bracket, second-seeded Wesleyan will play Bethany and fourth-seeded Bluefield will meet West Liberty, defending tourney champion, in games tonight.

The luck of the draw puts Wesleyan in a much more favorable position than Tech to make it to the finals. The two teams are co-favorites. The Bobcats will play a Bethany team which drew a bye for the first round and which owns an indifferent 4-4 league record. After tonight's game, Wesleyan will play either Bluefield State or West Liberty in semi-finals. And neither team has looked impressive here so far.

In sharp contrast, Tech faces a rugged, rocky road. If the Golden Bears manage to get by Glenville State, they must play either Morris Harvey or Fairmont State in order to gain a berth in the Saturday night finals.

The weather was warmer here yesterday with the cold snap easing a bit but the tourney action was not as hot as that in the first day of play.

Win With Ease
All the favorites won, continuing the pattern set on the opening day. But in a turnabout from the exciting Tuesday games, the favorites won with ease in yesterday's windup of first round play.

Wesleyan, playing its regulars little more than half the time, hit its highest point output of the year by rolling over Concord 109-72.

Fairmont showed class in downing Alderson-Broadus, 92-72. West Liberty posted Davis and Elkins, 82-58 in a drab encounter, and Bluefield showed its heels to Shepherd 36-64.

Fairmont presented a well-rounded attack headed by Bobby Couz, Harry Hall and Curt Guin. Couz, shooting from the outside, hit on 14 of 20 for 30 points, the redheaded Hall, conference scoring leader, added 26 and Guin, freshman stalwart, netted 19.

Tech Coach Neal Baisi declared this looked to be the best Fairmont team he had seen during his seven years at the tourney.

While Concord failed to provide too much opposition, Wesleyan coach Hank Ellis was elated by the outside shooting of sophomore Sam Caudill who racked up 15 points.

"If Caudill can continue to hit from the outside," we have a good chance of going all the way," Ellis enthused.

Five other Bobcats were in the double figures, headed by Ken Remley's 23 points.

Senators No Problem
West Liberty, rusty from a long layoff, didn't need too much to get by Davis & Elkins which resembled little the former D & E teams which were tourney powerhouses.

The Hilltoppers sewed the proceedings up midway in the first half of the struggle. Bob McNabb, with 15 tallies, and Joe Blaha, with 15, were high for the Hilltoppers. Walt Scheller scored 15 for D & E.

Bluefield's classy little guard, Jimmy Scott, poured in 25 points to lead the Big Blues in their victory over Shepherd. Bill Grant's 29 points were high for the losers.

Shepherd set some sort of a tourney record in its 20th appearance hereby losing in the first round for the 20th time.

Take a good club like the Boston Celtics. Let 'em lose a few. Are they coasting? Or slumping? That's the question in the push for play-off berths today in the National Basketball Assn.

It looks more like coasting than slumping with the Celtics, who despite a 123-103 defeat by the Philadelphia Warriors last night still have a 6½-game Eastern Division lead. The defeat gave the Celtics a .500 mark for their last four games and dipped them below .700 for one of the few times this season.

The decision hoisted the Warriors two games ahead of New York, beaten 116-110 by Syracuse in their fight for the final playoff berth in the eastern.

Detroit nailed a playoff berth in the Western by eliminating Minneapolis 117-115 in overtime in the only other game scheduled. A jump shot by Gene Shue with 21 seconds left in the overtime put the Lakers 10½ games behind the Pistons with only 10 to play.

Kerner Not Sorry He Traded Russell

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ben Kerner of the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association says he's not sorry he traded draft rights of Bill Russell to the Boston Celtics. He got Cliff Hagan and Ed Macauley in return.

"Hagan has been as effective for us as Russell has for Boston," says Kerner.

Butcher Easily Leads Scorers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It will take some mighty hot shooting to thaw the freeze John Butcher of Pikeville (Ky.) College has on the individual scoring in NAIA basketball.

Statistics released this week by the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics show Butcher in front with an average of 32.1 points in 27 games. His closest rival is Charles Mayo of Bethel (Tenn.) College, who has a 29.1 average through 18 games.

West Virginia Tech upped its scoring average to 107 points a game in 24 games, ahead of Pikeville's 93.5 average for 27 games.

Stokes Uses Weights To Strengthen Knee

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hotel managers were startled when they received from the Cincinnati Royals wires requesting "40 pounds of bricks, sand or other weights suitable for leg exercises."

The weights were for Maurice Stokes. Royal ace, who uses them to strengthen an injured knee. Stokes missed nine National Basketball Association games. When he was able to raise and lower his leg with 40 pounds, doctors permitted Maurice to return to the basketball court.

City Rec League Hoop Summary

By The Associated Press

Take a good club like the Boston Celtics. Let 'em lose a few. Are they coasting? Or slumping? That's the question in the push for play-off berths today in the National Basketball Assn.

It looks more like coasting than slumping with the Celtics, who despite a 123-103 defeat by the Philadelphia Warriors last night still have a 6½-game Eastern Division lead. The defeat gave the Celtics a .500 mark for their last four games and dipped them below .700 for one of the few times this season.

WESTERNPORT—The Town of Westernport will purchase water from Piedmont about 11 hours per day in an attempt to relieve the water crisis incurred during the present cold spell. It was decided at a meeting of Commissioners last evening to secure the water from 9 p. m. to 8 a. m. daily.

The town has been paying an employee to stay all night at the fire house of Potomac Fire Company to call persons in case of a fire. This will be continued as long as the emergency exists.

Although there is 450,000 gallons of water passing through the filtration plant daily, there were only two feet, four inches of water in the reservoir on Westernport Hill, which is about 90,000 gallons, last night.

Town officials feel a great deal of the cause of the low level of the water in the reservoir is due to many residents leaving their faucets run all night to keep pipes from freezing.

Mrs. Katherine Getty, town clerk, reported receipts from the parking meters last week amounted to $81.34.

Russell R. McBride, police officer, called attention to traffic congestion on Main Street, between Church and Washington Streets, in the afternoon. Much of it is due to trucks parking on the street. During that time the Luke mill traffic and school buses add to the situation.

He proposed that trucks be prohibited from parking between the regular meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and Council last evening that he will be a candidate for mayor at the biennial election Tuesday, May 27. He is rounding out five two-year terms as commissioner.

Running with him are Alvin Ponce, water commissioner, who is completing two two-year terms, and Leo Herbert, police commissioner, who is serving his first two-year term.

He also pointed out that anyone wanting to vote in the city election must have their names on the registration rolls. If names appear on the county rolls, Vogtman added, this does not qualify for voting in the city. If there is any doubt about city registration, he states, a phone call to the City Hall will clarify the situation.

Registration for city elections was closed one month prior to the election March 1. The deadline for filing as a candidate is March 17.

GOP Sounds Cheery Note

WHEELING—Gov. Underwood sounded an optimistic note for West Virginia Republicans last evening at Hill Top Inn with D. W. Hershberger, president, presiding. Donald Newman had charge of the program.

William Wilson, member of the board of directors of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association, gave a talk on the subject. Charles C. Bender, member of board of directors and general chairman of the Garrett County Heart Fund drive, introduced the speaker.

John Hershberger was a guest. The regular meeting of the Casselman Valley Homemakers Club was held at the home of Mrs. Melvin Schwing with Mrs. Joseph Paul, president, presiding.

All 100 seats in the House will be up for grabs this year, while 17 of 32 Senate seats will be at stake. There are at present 58 Democrats and 42 Republicans in the House and 21 Democrats and 11 Republicans in the Senate.

The state's first Republican governor since 1929-3 said, "All the present Republican senators who will be up for re-election represent normally safe Republican districts."

Underwood expressed his desire to obtain a Republican-controlled Legislature. "I prefer to have the facilities to carry out my program so people can judge my administration on increased performance rather than measure the other party's failures."

Underwood said he favors an annual meeting of the Legislature with no restrictions on matters to be considered. The 30-day legislative session last month was primarily confined to budgetary matters, with general 60-day sessions held on alternate years.

In his Jaycee banquet speech, Underwood said that while West Virginia has many problems, roads and schools are the major ones.

He called the future's industrial demands "those that West Virginia can best supply, over almost any other state."

Five Perish As Fire Razes Family Home

STAUNTON, Va.—Five members of one family died last night in a fire that broke out as they slept in a frame house near this Shenandoah Valley city.

The dead were identified as Jesse Simmons, 42; his wife Zona Mae, 42; Carrie C. Whetzel, 45, Sugar Grove, W. Va., a sister of Mrs. Simmons; and two cousins of Mrs. Simmons, Clemon B. Smith, 36, and Sammy Smith, 26, both of Sugar Grove, Pendleton County.

The Simmons, formerly of Sugar Grove, had rented the six-room frame house just six days ago when they moved here from West Augusta, a small community also in Augusta County.

The fire was discovered shortly after 11 p.m. by Ed A. Dudley, owner of the home who lives nearby. By the time he arrived on the scene, the house was completely enveloped in flames.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Wilmer Simmons, brother of Jesse, said when he left the home about 7 p.m. all but Sammy Smith were in bed. He went visiting in the area. When he went by the house before returning to West Virginia, Simmons said, he saw the roof collapse. Simmons sounded the alarm.

He said the home was heated by two wood stoves. It was reduced to ashes by the time firemen arrived.

KINGWOOD, W. Va. — More snow was coming down today in weather-paralyzed Preston County where several rural communities already were completely cut off from the outside world except for telephone contact.

Six inches of snow fell here overnight, making a total of 56 inches this month. Drifts reached depths of 15 to 20 feet in some places. Sheriff Charles S. Harrison reported all secondary roads in the county are closed.

Harrison said small rural communities that are completely snow-bound include Craneyville, almost 8 miles in Raleigh County, to the Maryland border in the northeastern corner of the county near the Pennsylvania and Maryland state lines.

There is assurance from telephone communication that those communities have not yet run into food supply emergencies. But Harrison said there undoubtedly are people without food in isolated rural homes without telephones — "if we just knew where they were."

The weather, which yesterday began to show just a little grudging mercy to West Virginia, turned to snow squalls after nightfall in most sections.

Diehards at the state college conference basketball tournament at Buckhannon in Upshur County watched steady flurries fall upon already deep snow, while at Clarkburg, a steady snowfall produced a deeper blanket upon that city and outlying Harrison County communities.

Parkersburg, where the Ohio River remained, early frozen solid last night, had spastic snow flurries. Ice on the city park's lake was about eight inches thick, but youngsters enjoyed ice skating privileges.

In the period which began last Friday, the state has recorded 14 deaths from traffic mishaps on the frozen body of Dr. Robert Hyde returned to their studies at the West Virginia state of Big Western Maryland College, West-North Mountain, 18 miles west of Minster, after visiting their parents.

Keyser Citizens Ask Action On Relocating Route 220

KEYSER — One thing was certain after public hearing on the relocation of U. S. Route 220 Church, Rev. John D. MacLeod, pastor of Keyser Presbyterian Church and Floyd C. Boor, cashing — practically everybody is for the project.

There was a note of unanimity among Keyser citizens and representatives of the State Roads Commission to the effect that the relocation is a necessity and should be accomplished in the near future.

More than 40 local people were in the court room for the hearing. Several of them spoke on behalf of the project and their remarks were recorded on tape and will be sent to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads for study.

Representing the State Roads Commission at the hearing were John Blankenship and Lee Books, regional construction engineers, and Lawrence McClung, senior inspector, all of Charleston, and Harold J. Snyder, district engineer, and Joseph Melody, construction engineer, of Keyser.

Site Described

Snyder opened the meeting by describing the proposed new route and giving some specifications. The project will start on Mineral Street at Piedmont, continue out Mineral to Lincoln, run diagonally from the intersection across a lot to South Davis Street. It will continue out Davis Street, across property owned by Earl K. Hess and the Mineral County Board of Education. The new route will follow the "hunch" up New Creek Valley behind the homes now facing New Creek Drive and connect with the present Route 220 near the golf driving range of John Rokisky about two miles south of Keyser.

Snyder said that in Keyser the route would have a 50-foot right-of-way, which would include two 12-foot traffic lanes, two 4-foot parking lanes and two 4-foot sidewalks.

These who spoke for the project included Judge Ernest A. See, Mayor Richard E. Romig, Harland Riddler, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Charles W. Smith, executive secretary of the Chambers; E. M. Wells, home assistant county superintendent.

Cake — Tom B. Hedrick, chairman, Mrs. Olie Lloyd and Mrs. Fred Combs, Fish Pond — Mrs. Mary Lee Lambert, chairman, the Hendricks Ruritan Club and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Joseph Turner. Candy — Mrs. Lacy Fink, chairman, Mrs. Mary Griffith, Mrs. Lucille Parsons and school.

Hot dogs and coffee — Mrs. Alston White, chairman, Mrs. Tom B. Hedrick, Mrs. Hazel Hinkle.

The Queen of Hearts social is sponsored annually by the Parent-Teacher Association, assisted this year by the Ruritan Club of Hendricks.

WIDE-EYED — Former President Harry S. Truman wears a wide-eyed expression as he holds a golden replica of the world presented to him in Philadelphia last night by the Golden Slipper Square Club, a Masonic organization, for his devotion to the ideal of a "golden world" of lasting peace. McKeldin Criticizes Demo Recession Move ANNAPOLIS — Gov. McKeldin in the public mind for today criticized as "hastily drawn and shallowly presented" a telegram from 11 Democratic governors to President Eisenhower urging steps to halt the recession.

He said the telegram was "obviously intended to plant the pods of panic in the public mind for political purposes."

The Maryland Republican made the observations in a letter to Gov. G. Mennen Williams, one of the 11 signers of the telegram to Eisenhower.

Williams had sent McKeldin a copy of the telegram with an invitation to join them in the appeal. They urged the President to accelerate the federal highway program and other public works projects, expand welfare, education and health programs, ease credit, restore farm income and cut taxes for low income families if necessary to stimulate economic activity.

"Had I and several other governors been present at the devising of the telegram, I am sure we would want to know, for example, what each of the states represented was doing about its own road program and about meeting federal requirements for the interstate system," McKeldin wrote to Williams.

"There might be some red faces around the table and some hesitancy about criticizing the federal roads program."

"We would want to know what steps the respective states are taking to ease the needs of our children, the aged and the handicapped" before making new demands on Washington.

"Some of us would recall that the national administration already has under consideration the possibility of a tax cut if it is needed for economic stimulation."

"Indeed, some of us would have sought for the instructor's course which will be taught during the yearning for the old moon-dogging latter part of the month by Gene Husik, water safety instructor from the Eastern Area office of the Red Cross."

In order to take the course, an applicant must be 18 years of age or over and a senior life saver.

Mrs. Charles Kahl of Braddock said he and everyone else is anxious to see an upturn in the economy "but few of us feel that the present period of adjustment is a cause for fear."

Age Limit On Certain Movies Aired

House Committee Reported Divided On Censorship Bill

ANNAPOLIS — A House committee today pondered whether teenagers under 17 should be kept out of certain movies while its Senate counterpart held a hearing on the same subject.

Chairman Simpkins (D-Somerset) said the House Judiciary Committee might take some action on the censorship bill today. Members seemed divided over whether it would be a good or bad move by the State.

Meanwhile, the Senate Judiciary Committee scheduled a hearing on an identical bill drafted by the attorney general's office.

C. Morton Goldstein, chairman of the State Censor Board, has urged that the Legislature take such action although it would make Maryland the first state with such a law on the books.

It would permit the censor board to designate certain films dealing with sex or crime as unfit for viewing by anyone under 17. Goldstein said that under present restrictions, censors have to pass films unless they can be proved outright obscene — "dirt for dirt's sake" was the way he put it.

He thinks many which don't fit this ban go much further with sex than teenagers should be viewing, and that the Supreme Court would uphold censorship of them for a restricted classification such as: "youngsters even if it wouldn't for the general public. Goldstein cited County Board of Alcohol Beverage License Commissioners for which he had been forced to apply a Class A beer license in premises at 401 Pennsylvania Ave.

Theater owners strongly opposed the bill. They contend it's an attempt to reinstate censorship as exercised before Maryland's course planned next month at the law had to be rewritten in 1955. Central YMCA pool. The age they say it is unconstitutional, it limit is 16 or over.

They would hurt their business, and interested persons may get would lead to further censorship further information from the Red Cross office in the Post Office Building.

"When you begin down this road where do you stop?" asked William S. Wilson Jr., representing the Allied Motion Picture Theater Owners of Maryland. "First it's big-bosomed actresses, then horror movies, then other subjects."

Theater operators also argued that the ban would be difficult to enforce.

"How in the world will a ticket seller be able to tell who is 15 and who is 17 in a long line of children?" they asked committee members.

Mrs. Carl Coal of Annapolis, representing the Friends and Parents Assn. of St. Mary's High School, had a ready answer.

"The same way you now tell whether a child is 12 in order to charge him the price of an adult ticket," she retorted. "You don't seem to have any trouble determining age for that."

Mrs. Coal, a mother of nine children, urged adoption of a bill "to protect the character and moral development of our children."

Approximately 50 persons have indicated they wish to take the senior life saving course and instructor's course which will be offered by the Cumberland Chapter of the Red Cross next month.

Mrs. George Legge, executive secretary of the chapter, said the national administration already has under consideration the possibility of a tax cut if it is needed for economic stimulation.

"Indeed, some of us would have sought for the instructor's course which will be taught during the yearning for the old moon-dogging latter part of the month by Gene Husik, water safety instructor from the Eastern Area office of the Red Cross."

In order to take the course, an applicant must be 18 years of age or over and a senior life saver.

FOR FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Soundly generous, responsive day on the whole. The possible "don'ts" are control of emotions, avoidance of persons, things that hamper your good work. Realize you are very effective when self-possessed.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Mildly favorable from yesterday's Venus aspect. There are numerous enlightening situations to aid you in the new and unusual interests as well as the daily routine. A fine time for creative matters.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Mercury and Moon in amicable aspect; planets that spell widely-offered success now if you do a good job according to conscience and ability. Amazing the results we can acquire at our best.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer)—Favorable Sun and Saturn supplement for Venus vibrations promise a satisfactory period on the whole. We cannot complain when so many blessings are ours and we are in a position to use them advantageously.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo)—An interesting, fruitful day according to your planets, several well-aspected. However, there are a few warnings for the wise: avoid recklessness, over-sensitiveness, haste. Day is in your hands; do well.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo)—Excellent indications from Mercury, Moon and Sun. All interests in your categories are highly honored; you are indeed favored if you act accordingly. Be your cordial, helpful self. Goodness.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra)—Maybe not your strictly "private" day, but there are many intriguing and essential matters that need your attention, your direction, to lead them to proper fruition. Be agreeable, wise suggestions.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio)—Your Saturn, Uranus, the Moon and Sun are enlightening; good will abound. Forget out the old ways, know just what you are doing. Don't be a prey to conscienceless schemer.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—A strong, substantial period for like interests and activities. Point away in previously made plans if they are sound, progressive. Trust in God, do your best and you will gain.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn)—Fine strong Saturn rays today. Can be a profitable period for work with machinery, tools, plumbing, building, all hard labor. Encouraging for mental alertness, family interest.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 21 (Aquarius)—Uranus your natal planet; highly stimulating. This is a day for constructive action, fresh gain. Don't be behind schedule. Get your due share of benefits, profits, advantages.

FEBRUARY 22 to MARCH 21 (Pisces)—Quiet in Neptune's sector, but friendly vibrations are all around and we hope you will be rightly aggressive to press forward and be eager for some freshly earned gains.

YOUR BORN TODAY have many splendid talents and the ability to sell them to good advantage. Many famed writers, musicians, business executives and diplomats are natives of this sector. Any tendency to falter or become lackadaisical should be nipped in the bud. Any tendency to become a menace. High principled and ambitious associates are good tones; will encourage you to bring forth your qualities and make the most of them. You have leadership ability; can organize and be a factor of great good in your profession, trade, career. Pray. Birthdate of John Henry Newman, English Cardinal and writer.

Weak Opener Good Tactics

There is a lot to be said for the weak opening bid. It gets you in the bidding early and is very likely to lead to a good result. In fact most top players believe in it so it must be good tactics.

As for the weak minor suit overall, it is practically pointless. Sometimes it gives the opponents a chance to double you, sometimes it warns them away from an impossible no-trump contract and sometimes it helps. The 6th crest has a lion "En Passant" and so the soldiers want to see this pointless class. His lion for a mascot but lack the funds to buy a big animal. They hope a generous zoo keeper might help them out, but are willing to settle for a mountain lion, if proper. He had no idea about the somebody will loan them dynamite that was about to go perceived dogs to track down the off in his face.

North's pump to four spades was sound indeed. He had no aces but his hand was solid. South did a little thinking. His two-ace bid was nothing to write home about but his partner just had to be short in clubs. A further bid seemed indicated and South bid five diamonds to show that ace. Now there was no further ado about getting to the slam.

The opening club lead was ruffled in dummy. Trumps were drawn, the losing clubs went on dummy's diamonds and the ace of heart trick was conceded.

Of course, the slam was there without East's overcall but I doubt very much if it would have been bid. North and South might not have found out about the perfect fit of their hands.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass
2♥ Pass 3♦ Pass
3♠ Pass 3NT Pass
4♥ Pass ?

You South, hold:
AK7532 ♠ J532 ♠ K54
What do you do now?
A—Bid four hearts. Your partner is interested in a slam in spite of the fact that you have only bid three no-trump at your last turn. There is no harm in showing him the ace of hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner continues with a bid of five diamonds. What do you do now?

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Prison Has Good Escape Record

SANTA FE, N. M.—(INS)—The break most were retaken within a few days, but one man was returned after 15 years' freedom.

More than half of the 763 recorded escapes have been made from the prison farm, but there have been no successful breaks made from New Mexico's new eight-million-dollar penitentiary which is theoretically escape-proof.

But Spencer, like 758 of the other escapees, was recaptured the crude oil of the United States and finished out his sentence. Of the 18 per cent of the world's prisoners who made good supply.

Since the prison was established at Santa Fe, there have been 763 convicts who attempted to gain freedom beginning with inmate No. 20, Charles Spencer, on Feb. 20, 1883.

Tax Proposal

seek every means to avoid any increase in taxes.

It is talking of a percentage cut across the board on appropriations coupled with scattered reductions to avert the need of raising 38 million dollars more this year.

The House is expected to move along toward passage this afternoon a plan to avoid the loss of 22 million dollars in taxes on business stocks.

Full Value Tax

It would assert the right to tax them at full value while assessing real estate at a percentage. The Court of Appeals has ruled this practice is illegal under present law.

Also expected today was a final Senate vote on a bill to ban the sport of jai alai with pari-mutuel wagering in Maryland. The measure received tentative approval Tuesday night after an attempt to amend it was beaten down.

Aimed at preventing a group of jai alai promoters from setting up shop in Anne Arundel County, it still faces action by the House, where the county delegation is split 3-3 on it.

Action by the Senate last night included tentative approval of a bill to strip police of their authority to apply for court permission to tap telephone wires. Under the bill, backed by the between-sessions Legislative Council of the General Assembly, the authority to apply for such permission would be restricted to officials in the state's attorney's and attorney general's offices.

The Senators enacted and sent to the House bills to pay State employees overtime for work over 40, instead of 44 hours a week and to require that any surplus revenues over five-million dollars be used to help reduce the state debt on construction and other capital improvements.

Equal Rights Plea Made By Association

In a resolution approved Monday the Cumberland Ministerial Association pledged the group "to work for the elimination of all barriers erected to deny any person equal privileges because of race, creed, color or national origin."

According to Rev. Wayne J. Eberly, secretary, the ministers restated "our plea that the City of Cumberland speak through its Mayor and Council to place on the statute books a law prohibiting such discriminatory segregation as is still being practiced in some spheres of our community life."

The resolution continues: "Finally, we call the citizens of Cumberland to acquaint themselves with this problem, to become concerned about it, and to make their voices heard, to the end that brotherhood which is the foundation of all true religion and democracy may unite us under God."

In the preamble of the resolution the ministers state "in the City of Cumberland it is not now possible for Negroes to find accommodations on an unsegregated basis in hotels, restaurants or theatres," and it continues to "reaffirm our belief in the principles of equal rights and opportunities on an unsegregated basis."

the sixth straight Saturday and Sunday that state roads workers west of Frostburg have had to work.

Nursing Rates Advanced For Baltimore Area

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rates for private duty nurses on 8-hour shifts will go up $2 starting tomorrow. This boosts the new rate to $17.

The increased rates, announced yesterday by the Maryland State Nurses Assn. aroused protests from the Hospital Council, Inc., representing 23 hospitals in the Baltimore area.

The council claimed the 13 percent rate boosts was not needed, and said the increase should have been limited to $1. The new rates will cost patients needing round-the-clock nursing service $51, the council added.

Tabor; David Rowley, St. Paul's Lutheran; John Grove, Emmanuel Methodist; James Diggs, Holy Cross Episcopal; Veda Clangan, McKendree Methodist, and Jeffrey Getz, United Synagogue Youth.

Refreshments were served following the program by Martin Sigel.

Senator Asks That State Run Racing

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—An opponent of the Pimlico-to-Laurel move said today he may introduce a bill to make Maryland the operator of all race tracks in the state.

Sen. Northrop (D-Montgomery) suggested the move as an ultimate weapon in the battle over a bill to allow Pimlico to abandon its Baltimore plant and transfer its 40-day annual racing schedule to Laurel. The state's other major race track, Bowie, has opposed this, contending it would then be competing in effect with one single track which would have twice as many racing days.

Northrop noted that backers of the Pimlico-Laurel bill have argued it would increase patronage at Laurel and thereby boost State revenue from betting. He also pointed out that in New York the State operates race tracks.
